Information

Denver Water requires assistance to provide advertising and social marketing professional services for various campaigns including, but not limited to, drought and conservation. These campaigns serve to assist Denver Water in the reduction of water use and foster permanent changes in public consumption. By utilizing these professional services, Denver Water anticipates achieving its goal of a twenty-two percent (22%) sustainable water use reduction by 2016.

The Request for Proposals was downloaded by sixty-five (65) potential bidders and Denver Water received a total of four (4) responses, all of which were from firms that have SBE designation. After review of the proposals, Sukle Advertising & Design, a SBE, was selected as the most responsive and responsible firm.

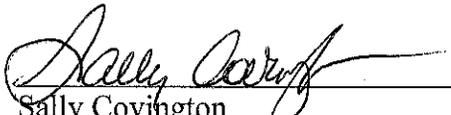

Funds for advertising and social marketing are included in the Public Affairs budget for 2013 and will be included in each budget through 2017 for this item.
